Enhancing Water Quality at Mercure Hotel Glenmarie with Waterco

A Serene Business Oasis with a Water Quality Challenge

Mercure Hotel Glenmarie is nestled in a peaceful green environment, providing an ideal balance for relaxation and business. Equipped with meeting rooms, high-speed internet and close proximity to major highways, the hotel caters to business travellers. In contrast, its comfortable rooms, dining options, fitness centre and spa create a welcoming retreat for all guests. However, maintaining high-quality water throughout its facilities remained a crucial challenge that the hotel sought to resolve.

AquaFlo: The Smart Choice for Cleaner Water

To address their pressing water quality concerns, Mercure Hotel Glenmarie required a system that would filter the incoming water supply to the main tank and reduce the use of internal water filters in each piece of equipment. The hotel opted for Waterco's AQ600X AquaFlo Centralised Filtration System, known for its advanced multi-media technology and ability to remove contaminants such as chlorine, heavy metals and sediments. The AquaFlo system's fibreglass-reinforced plastic (FRP) construction also made it ideal for retrofitting the hotel's existing water systems, offering a hassle-free installation process while meeting the hotel's specific filtration needs.

Crystal Clear Results with AquaFlo

Since the installation of the AquaFlo system, water quality at Mercure Hotel Glenmarie has seen remarkable improvement. The filtration system has successfully eradicated contaminants, reduced the need for frequent internal filter replacements, and helped the hotel avoid costly maintenance interruptions. Guests and management alike have noted the enhanced clarity and safety of the water, reinforcing trust in the hotel's commitment to hygiene and reliability.

Smooth Execution: Minimal Disruption, Maximum Benefits

Despite some initial challenges, the installation of the AquaFlo filter system was executed seamlessly with minimal disruption to the hotel's daily operations. Waterco's phased approach and professional expertise ensured that the hotel continued to function smoothly throughout the process. Following the installation, the hotel management reported a significant boost in guest satisfaction, thanks to the newfound water quality and operational efficiency.
